

Tenure Track Position in Astronomy

Campion College at the University of Regina invites applications for a probationary tenure-track appointment in astronomy at the rank of Assistant Professor in the Department of Physics to begin July 1, 2019. The successful candidate will have a PhD in astronomy and have a record of a strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching. Teaching duties will primarily involve introductory and intermediate classes in astronomy. There are also opportunities to develop higher level undergraduate courses, and to supervise special-case graduate students, although the Department of Physics offers neither an undergraduate major nor a graduate program in astronomy. Excellence in research, in any area of astronomy, and a proven ability to contribute to a team environment is also essential.

Campion College is a Jesuit Catholic community of learning dedicated to the development of the whole person – intellectually, spiritually, socially – for service in society. Located on the University of Regina campus, Campion offers courses in the natural sciences, social sciences, humanities, and fine arts. The College is a fully accredited member of the Associations of Universities and Colleges of Canada, and its graduates receive University of Regina degrees. Campion faculty are voting members of their respective faculties (e.g., Science, Arts, Graduate Studies) of the University of Regina.

Interested candidates should forward an application (including a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, transcripts, and evidence of both teaching effectiveness and scholarly activities) in a single PDF file to Dr. Allison Fizzard, Dean of Campion College, at campion.dean@uregina.ca.

Candidates should also arrange for the submission of three confidential letters of reference, either to be sent separately in PDF format to campion.dean@uregina.ca, or as part of a package by those using Interfolio or a similar service.

Campion College is committed to ensuring equal opportunities for all employees and applicants for employment at the College. To that end, the College encourages the hiring, retention, and promotion of members of designated groups including women, indigenous peoples, persons with disabilities, visible and non-visible minorities. Review of applications will begin December 1, 2018, and will continue until suitable candidates have been identified. Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.
